INTRAcel

The INTRAcel RF treatment precisely delivers radiofrequency (RF) energy to selectable skin depths. Employing 49 insulated micro-needles, INTRAcel is effective in treating fine lines, wrinkles, acne, laxity, stretch marks, scars, and for stimulating collagen production.

While overall tolerance varies depending on type of treatment and person, the INTRAcel RF treatment is generally well accepted. To further ensure comfort and safety, INTRAcel employs a proprietary insertion mechanism and patented insulated micro-needles optimized to deliver energy to target while minimizing discomfort. This results in faster recovery with minimal to no downtime. Topical numbing cream can offer additional relief if needed.

Typically three treatments are needed to show significant results even if some results may be visible after one treatment. Your physician will discuss the optimal number of treatments needed based on your skin condition and goals. Improvements are typically noticeable 6-8 weeks after treatment, however the number of treatments and results vary depending on your skin condition. Your physician will advise on what to expect based on skin type and condition.

The insertion of insulated micro-needles at precise and controllable depths, ensures that the treatment is safe on all skin types and tones and greatly reduces the risk of hyperpigmentation. Recovery requires minimal down-time and results are lasting.
